All of the 50mm x 50mm tiles are authentic handmade and hand painted tiles. These tiles have the same characteristics as our 105mm x 105mm tiles. Slight variations in each tile's size, weight and paint should always be expected. Some crazing marks will be noticeable and the tiles may not be perfectly flat or square. These characteristics are not faults. The imperfections of Talavera tiles are what gives them their antique look, personality and charm. Talavera tiles are a form of ceramic art and should not be compared to machine-made tiles.
